Special observations

(1) Appointment of a Forwarding agent in India

If ATA Carnet holders wish to appoint a forwarding agent in India, it is advisable that the name of the Indian forwarding agent be mentioned in Box B of the front cover of the ATA Carnet.

(2) Submission of proof of re-export to the concerned port of import:

If the port of import of carnet goods is different from the port of reexport, it is recommended for carnet holders to forward the proof of re-export to the concerned port of import to avoid unnecessary claims from the Indian customs. This is due to the manual operation of ATA Carnet transactions by the Indian customs and it can be followed if it is possible to do so.

(3) Period of re-exportation from India

Goods for exhibitions and fairs: 6 months

Professional equipment: 2 months

If holders would want their goods to remain in India longer than the period specified, they should obtain approval, therefore (1) from the Customs office of import; (2) before the original period has expired. Failing such approval within the due period, duties, taxes and interests would become payable.
